Nevada City Grass Valley NUGGET

Volume 21—No. 30 NEVADA CITY-GRASS VALLEY, CALIFORNIA Thursday, July 29, 1948

Broad Street

By HARLEY M. LEETE, JR.

Otto Bergendahl, Commercial Street upholsteryman, gives a startling prediction for the consequences of the election of the Dewey-Warren ticket. Prohibition will be immediately declared, he says, with heavy sentences for bootleggers. Purpose of the enforced drouth, according to Bergendahl, will be to make more grain available for a hungry world. To cap this shocker, his No. 2 prediction is that cigarettes will sell for $1 per pack.

You think maybe we can't prove the hypothesis—"the best of everything is right here in Nevada County." Well, here's a good try: A Marysville outfit sells pure drinking water in five gallon jugs to residents of that community and Yuba City. Where do they get the water? Sierra Springs, naturally, right at the top of the Main Street hill in Grass Valley. The Marysville water purveyor makes two or three trips a week to our Nevada County for really pure water.

Early risers in Nevada City are treated to a view of the village at its most beautiful. When the first yellow sun is hitting the slim tops of the poplar trees, gilding them and a few roofs, and a soft blue mist is still hovering, undispelled, our little city is really something out of a dream book.

CONTESTS FOR COUNTY FAIR

GRASS VALLEY: Manager Loyle Freeman of the Nevada County Fair in an announcement to the Nugget of the forthcoming Fair scheduled for Watt Park, Grass Valley, August 26, 27, 28 and 29, predicts a "bigger and better" event than any in past history.

Entries covering livestock, horticulture, home economics and poultry are away in excess of past years. Industrial exhibits, covering a vast array of merchandise have been contracted for and will be displayed on the grounds.

A series of four or more contests have been arranged for, numbering; a "Quiz Contest" based on historical events of Nevada County and open to children up to and including sixteen years of age. A "Scarecrow Contest", Pasty and Photo contest are also under way. Manager Freeman advises that full information, entry blanks and instructions to interested parties wishing to enter these contests can be secured by calling at the Fair Office in Grass Valley, or by writing to Nevada County Fair, P. O. Box 1104, Grass Valley.

A first class carnival has been booked for the four day engagement. New and novel side shows, rides and all that makes a midway the "Gay White Way" will be offered to Fair visitors. Further entertainment in the way of "free attractions" will be the presentation of an internationally famous "Puppet Show" and a spectacular roller skating act. Combine all these together, states Manager Freeman, and include for good measure a free dance with live music presented nightly, the amusement seekers from all corners of the county should start making plans immediately to spend at least a day in Grass Valley to attend the Nevada County Fair. Remember the dates—August 26, 27, 28, 29.

GRASS VALLEY: The scarecrow contest for the County Fair (August 26, 27, 28 and 29) gained momentum as the Sierra Nevada Chamber of Commerce reported the first entry.

Parky's Gas Service, at Main and Church, volunteered the use of one of its show windows for the best scarecrow entry.

Al Gomez, former prominent boxer, now of Loomis, has been named horse show judge and livestock superintendent. He met Monday with the Gold Trail Riders regarding their part in the fair.

EARL COVEY

GRASS VALLEY: Earl Covey, local civic leader, recently crowned a successful business career with the construction of a brand new garage for his thriving Chrysler-Plymouth agency, automotive repair and Mopar Parts business

He first began acquiring auto know-how in 1916, when he repaired cars to aid in working his way through Stanford University.

Covey was born, in 1896, in the little town of Forestville, Sonoma County. He went to local public schools and the Santa Rosa High School, where he was a varsity quarter-miler, enthusiastic thespian, and member of the debating society.

His education at Stanford was interrupted by the first World War. A member of the debating team and secretary of the Y. M. C. A., he was granted a diploma of Honor in 1917 when he entered the army. When the war ended, he was about to receive a commission at an Officers Training School.

Upon receiving an honorable discharge from the Army, Covey engaged for a short time in selling life insurance. Then he worked at the Emporium, San Francisco department store, for three years, before going to work for J. C. Penney Co., by whom he was employed for 17 years.

Covey, as manager, established the Grass Valley branch of Penney Co. in 1929, and supervised the construction of the present building on Mill Street. In 1941, he left Penney Co. to open the Chrysler-Plymouth dealership, in which he has been successfully engaged ever since.

He was constructing an addition to his East Main Street garage last May when a serious fire, starting in an upstairs apartment, made it more practical to construct a complete new building.

The new garage was completed in June, 1947.

Covey is supervising district deputy grand president of the Native Sons of the Golden West and a member of the: past presidnts association of the N. S. G. W., the area rent control board, the state centennial commission advisory committee, the American Legion, the Lions, Odd Fellows, Laymeth Club, director of the Chamber of Commerce, member Automotive Trades Association and the Republican Central Committee.

Besides Earl Covey's Garage, he is the owner of the Stewart Street Tire Shop.

$200 LICENSE FOR SLOT MACHINES

NEVADA CITY: At an adjourned meeting last Thursday night, the city council directed City Attorney W. E. Wright to draw up an ordinance which will license free-play slot machines in Nevada City.

Wright had already reported that bona-fide "free-play" slot machines which did not pay off either in a receptacle on the machine or in cash from the bartender, were not illegal under the present local regulations.

A majority of the city council proposes that the machines shall pay a tax of $200 per year of $50 per quarter. Councilmen H. F. Sofge, Ira C. Bell, and Thomas Taylor favored this tax. Mayor Arthur B. Innis declared it was excessive.

The council fixed the salary of the city attorney at $50 per month. The board ordered a portable air compressor from the Miners Foundry and Manufacturing Co., which had submitted the lowest bid. A letter was dispatched to National Guard headquarters in Sacramento, offering to lease a portion of Pioneers Park for an armory site.

NEVADA CITY: Hammond Sallie, 27, resident of Detroit, Michigan, pleaded guilty to fishing without a license before Justice of the Peace George W. Gildersleeve yesterday and was fined $10. Since he had but one dollar with him, Game Warden Earl Hiscox suggested he leave his $30 fishing outfit in court, and in event he doesn't send in the money, the court will sell the outfit.

SKELETON OF MURDERED MAN IDENTIFIED AS J. J. INKRET

GRASS VALLEY: Howard Bennetts, past commander of the American Legion Post and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, has partially identified the remains of a man found on the eastern side of the Summit on Highway 40 yesterday, as that of John J. Inkret, Jr., Grass Valley veteran of World War II, who disappeared a year ago.

Bennetts was made the man's guardian and each month turned over to him his check for $96, a disability check from the U. S. Treasury. Inkret disappeared about July, 3rd, 1947. At the time Bennetts instituted a wide search for the veteran, who was last seen in company with two ex-convicts at his cabin on July 3rd, near the junction of the Colfax Highway and Highway 40.

Weeks later Bennetts was notified that Inkrets auto had been found abandoned on the streets of Gainesville, Texas. Bennetts went to Texas and retrieved the car. Identification is difficult, but Bennetts believes the dead man is Inkret. The shoes found with the remains are size 6½, which Inkret wore. The skeleton was that of a man about 5 feet 6 inches tall, the height of Inkret.

Inspector Green of the Bureau of Criminal Identification is preparing to fill out the skull, which is known as a "round face," and will check the teeth remaining with pictures of Inkret's teeth.

The skeleton ws found Sunday by John Zahara of Soda Springs who was searching for odd shaped stones.

PEPPER RECOVERS BODY

The skeleton was recovered Monday by Deputy Sheriff A. D. Pepper and brought into the coroner's office in Grass Valley. It was found on the eastern declivity of the Summit, about 30 feet below a large outjutting boulder, from which it is surmised the body was tossed some time last fall.

The skull was fractured as though he had been hit by a heavy, wide club. Blood had flowed down his suit and into his shoes, indicating he might have been in a sitting position when killed.

The man was apparently about 5 feet, 6 inches tall. His lower jaw was gone, and his arms were missing.

Pepper states it would have been impossible for the man to have died by being struck by a car. At that point on the descent from the summit a guard rail lines the outer edge of the road. In the waistband of the trousers was the legend on a stiff card, "Top and Bottom." No other marks were found on his clothing.

Bennetts said he had given the bureau four photographs of Inkret to assist in the reconstruction. The teeth of the dead man are also being examined and checked with work done by local dentists.

At the time of Inkret's disappearance, Bennetts stated, he had a sister, Mrs. Lena Price, living here, who has since removed to Auburn, Placer County. Inkret was 41 years of age and was granted a pension of $96 per month due to a slightly defective mind. For instance, when he had money he was inclined to spend it all immediately.

He had purchased three suits of clothes and none of his clothes were found at his cabin, at the corner of Highway 40 and the Colfax Road, three or four days after his disappearance when a search was made. When last seen he was in company with two former convicts.

Bennetts states that the Bureau of Criminal Identification is now working on various clues and should have a report ready for Sheriff Richard W. Hoskins in a few days.

The complaining witness is C. C. Wilson of Grass Valley, who states he was threatened with bodily harm when he rescued a woman, 29, of Auburn, who was screaming for help in the car occupied by the two men. Wilson said the two told him to go about his business or else. But, according to his story, told to Sheriff Richard W. Hoskins, he drew his pocket knife, opened it, and proceeded to liberate the woman, later taking her to the sheriff's office.

Sheriff's deputies dispatched to the scene found the two men asleep in the car. The woman's name was withheld. The car from which the woman was rescued was parked off the highway near Dew Drop Inn, about 8 miles west of this city.

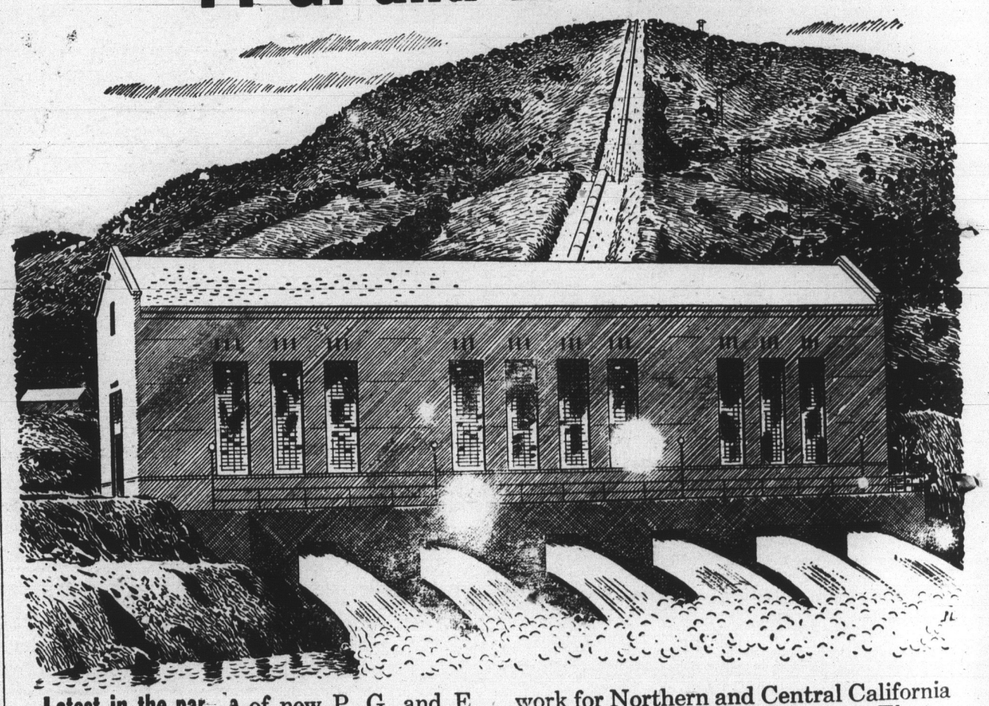
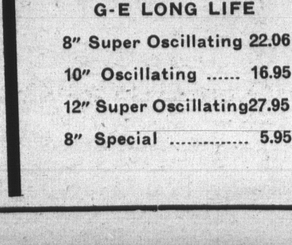
PROCEEDS TO BENEFIT FIRE PROTECTION

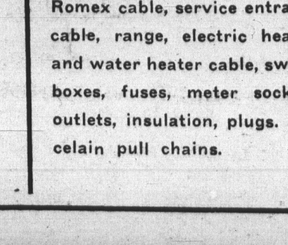
New Electra Powerhouse now pouring power into P. G. and E. lines



Latest in the parade of new P. G. and E. power producers is the Electra plant on the Mokelumne River eight miles from Jackson. New Electra is one of four powerhouses, completed or underway, spaced along the river...powerhouses to take the muscle from the Mokelumne and put it to work for Northern and Central California homes, farms and factories. One Electra unit began pouring power on the line this week and, when at full capacity, Electra will produce 133,000 horsepower. The four Mokelumne plants will turn out a total of 250,000 horsepower.

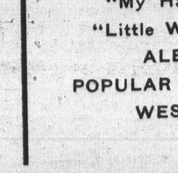


A pipeful of power . . . the penstock shown here feeds Mokelumne water from the reservoir to the powerhouse under high pressure. There it's jetted from giant nozzles at terrific speed against the water wheels that whirl power-making turbines.



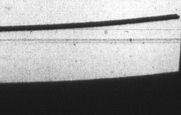
Power enough to serve the cities of Berkeley, Richmond and Emeryville will pour out of New Electra. The entire Mokelumne project will produce nearly twice that much. And this is just part of our program of more power . . . to serve you better.

for the record



New Electra stands near the site of the first plant to serve San Francisco with hydropower.

P. G. and E. is investing in California at the rate of more than $10,000,000 a month.



The first half-million new horsepower is being added in the next seven months.

Work never stops on our power-building program

Just Wonderin'

I Wonder in what time and place
First shone the light of Liberty,
Marking a pathway through the gloom
Of ancient fear and mystery;
A feeble light it must have been,
But quenched oft times it shone again,
And it will shine until it lights
A flame in all the hearts of men.

I Wonder when the first vague dreams of Liberty came into the hearts of our bewildered ancestors. Probably it was during the dread ages when grotesque beasts of alarming size and strength dominated the earth and sent the little creatures, men included, scurrying to holes in the ground and caves in the rocks. To be free from these great and terrible monsters, free to walk the earth without the ever present fear of being trampled under terrible feet—yes, one may well imagine that dreams of Liberty were born in those aeons of the past and that those dreams have lingered in the human heart and grown stronger through the years.

The southern states of our nation are contending for what they are pleased to call "state rights." I hope they are not trying to defend static rights, but some of their arguments remind one of the old line, "come one, come all, this ock shall fly from its firm base as soon as I." Static rights can never be maintained in a world of change, which is gradually escaping fom thraldoms of the past and from ancient forms of superstition and intolerance. No state can retain a status quo which is not subject to growth in the realm of human understanding and kindlier relationships among men.

Liberty is not static. Since that remote time when she first stood upright Liberty has been a living, moving force. The strange delusions and aberrations of the human mind have at times halted her progress, but the flame of her glowing torch has never been extinguished and through the ages, it has lighted a pathway which leads onward and upward.

The world has come a long way since the days of saurians and pterodactyls; and the light of Liberty still grows brighter with the passing years. Lifted high, its revealing beams dispel the miasma of dread and fear, ignorance and superstition. In those obscure corners where ancient evils linger, where old errors are entrenched and where worn out forms still prevail, the light of Liberty will shine with ever increasing effulgence and those who would linger in the darkness, will find themselves and their works made known to all the world. There is no escape from the flaming torch of Liberty; its penetrating beams light the way before.

We can all help to lift the torch of Liberty higher

HOLLYWOOD ANTIQUE COLLECTOR VISITS NEVADA CITY

NEVADA CITY: Charles Reed, well-known Hollywood antique collector and buyer for antiquarians, museums and the prop departments of movie studios, paid a visit to Nevada City on Tuesday of this week.

Reed makes about three cross-country jaunts each year, hitting small towns and large cities.

Reed states that, legally, an antique is any item manufactured prior to 1830; however, even though an article may not be an antique, it may be of untold value to a collector.

"When you are ready to sell your attic wares, if you do not know your stuff, or deal with a reliable appraiser, you will probably be outsmarted by a professional sharpshooter who knows every trick in the game to make you sell as junk what he knows how to convert into gold."

"There are no given maxims to follow when you start sorting and unearthing your attic and cellar debris. There are many thousands of items that may be valuable, but the best advice is not to depend on your own judgement."

HOME DEPARTMENT PICNIC

NEVADA CITY: The annual picnic of the Nevada City Home Department was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Virginia Hilliar, three miles from this city on the Downieville Highway. Many members availed themselves of the Hilliard swimming pool.

Physical fitness, an essential in the nursing profession, is one of the important goals set for students at Cook County School of Nursing. Located in the heart of Chicago's famous Medical Center this modern nurses' residence and training ground utilizes a big city rooftop for Summer practice in keeping fit. Its solarium and huge open deck are gay spots in recreation hours.

Summer students from all parts of the country include many who are taking a five year collegiate course. This leads to both a college degree and a diploma in nursing, and is open to both men and women. Cook County has affiliations with accredited colleges in Illinois, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Edna S. Newman, director of the school, is already receiving applications for the regular Fall classes which open in September.

Gold Digger's Trail

Charles Scott Haley

In the course of my work, I had met a prospector by the name of Johnson—a silent Swede from Butte—who told me of a new field which was shortly to be opened up by a railroad to be constructed fom Tonopah to Ely. It was not generally known that the road was projected, and it was his plan to secure some likely ground before a boom could start. He asked me if I would join him.

So I sold camera, overcoat and other impedimenta for what I could get, and we started off accompanied with the usual long-eared partners for the Morey district, about a hundred odd miles away, out from Big Smoky Valley.

Our outfit consisted of one Jack and a Jenny with a knee high appendage which we called The Kid, and packsaddles loaded with bacon and beans, flour and other standard equipment. We also had fifty dollars in cash between us, which my partner kept in a wallet in his rear overall pocket.

The first night, we slept out on the Stone Cabin road, belly down in the sand, with a blanket apiece over us. Next day we arived at Stone Cabin, where we found good water and a decent place to sleep. Late the next evening we drifted into Hot Creek Ranch and had a good supper. When we finished, Johnson reached for his rear pocket. It was empty.

The night was brilliantly moonlit, and we started to retrace our steps to Tonopah. We had need of powder and supplies for our prospect work, and we needed that fifty—desperately. About ten miles back, we found the wallet and retraced our steps rejoicing. All of our capital was intact.

That night we slept out in Rattlesnake Canyon, not far from the old smelting camp of Tybo, which was then a ghost city. Because the local Indians had been burning the brush to kill snakes, we put a stiff bristly rope around us as we lay on the ground. The warmth of a human body will attract a rattler to the blankets, but in the morning he is apt to pay for his night's lodging with a kiss, which is not so good.

There was little to tie the burros to, but we found a thirty foot length of three inch pipe which had belonged to the smelter, and tethered the Jenny to it. knowing that the others would not stray far. In the early morning hours, something must have scared the Kid, for he and his mother came clanging down the narrow canyon with the heavy pipe behind them, and almost ran over us in their panic. The heavy pipe passed within an inch of my head, but as no harm was done, we turned over and resumed our sleep. In the morning, we found our fellow travelers still grouped round the pipe, about a half a mile down the canyon.

Hot Dog!

A beach picnic is always fun and doubly so when someone like Virginia Mayo, starring in Samuel Goldwyn's "A Song is Born", is around. Of course, there's usually a photographer on hand to take a picture! In this one, Virginia has just unpacked the food and the paper napkins; and wisely holding a paper napkin around a "hot dog", she prepares to enjoy her favorite picnic snack.

HOW TO SET UP HOUSEKEEPING ..telephone style

1. Building a home for telephone equipment is a big and complex job. The framework must be extra massive to carry heavy loads and resist shock. To make room for equipment, the stories are taller, too. This new building, larger than most but of typical construction, has fifteen floors...yet it's as high as a twenty-story building.

2. The "furniture" for our telephone home is the equipment needed to handle your calls. Manufacturing and installing it takes time...and lots of money. Your new telephones can't get to work without it, so we're putting in equipment, constructing buildings, and providing other facilities to the tune of over half a million dollars a day.

3. A lot of close, exacting work is still ahead. Thousands of tiny connections must feel the heat of a soldering iron before new equipment can handle your calls. Scenes like this are common in telephone offices all over the Coast today as we build and expand—in the face of high costs—to meet the West's growing needs.

4. Where does the money come from? Millions of new working dollars...needed to extend and improve service...must come, not from telephone bills, but from thousands of people who put their savings to work in the telephone business. To attract these working dollars, we must pay a reasonable amount for their use. This depends on the sale of our services at fair and adequate prices.

ALMANAC. July 29 is regarded as the birthdate of the almanac. The year is disputed. Some authorities say the year 1472 ,others 1743. It was printed at Nuremburg. Other authorities claim that the Pro Pluribus Annis was the earliest printed almanac, published at Vienna in 1457 by Purbach. The first American almanac was published by William Bradford at Philadelphia in 1687.

FAREWELL. The nation's farewell to the late General John J. Pershing could have been a quoted passage from his leavetaking address to the men of the A. E. F., General Orders No. 38 A, dated France, February 28, 1918. "With a concentrated devotion to duty and will to conquer, you have served your country. By exemplary conduct a standard has been established and maintained, never ebfore attained by any army."

DRAFT. Since it has become effective many of the youth have volunteered for service. There are others who look upon it as an unwelcome duty. Many parents are against it. Yet the draft may be a blessing in disguise. Boys of 18 and over who are being trained to become efficient men have no time to become delinquents.

OBITUARY. Archie, the turtle, is dead. He passed away during the hot spell. We have put it down to old age. The funny little guy had been with us for four years. We buried him under a holly tree. One notice of his demise has been sent to the last sailing ship under the American flag, the ship "Pacific Queen," now in Long Beach harbor.

SNAPSHOT. Grownups fall for this brown haired, brown eyed person's charms. Little children love her. A born mixer, she moves with easy grace in any crowd. She is very wise in things historical. Knows the ways of fairies and the little people. She is remembered by strangers for the knack in making them feel welcome to Nevada County.

INTRODUCTION. Rusty, the cat, will take over the horoscope paragraph. She is a tawny persian with golden eyes. Her nocturnal wanderings have acquainted her with the signs and lore written in the night skys. She says that people who are born in the last week of July observe and retain knowledge and with properly trained minds can become veritable walking encyclopedias.

LAST RITES FOR GARFIELD ROBSON

NEVADA CITY: Funeral services for Garfield Robson, who took his own life early last Friday in the garden of his Nevada City home on East Broad Street, took place Monday at 2 P. M. in Myers Mortuary Chapel. Officers of Roses Bar Lodge, F. and A. M. conducted the service. Interment was in the Masonic Cemetery.

The late sheriff was a member of the Nevada Commandery, Knights Templar, Ben Ali Temple, Mystic Order o fthe Shrine, and Aurora Chapter, Order of Eastern Star. He was a prominent member of the Methodist Church and served on the church board.

It was during his term as sheriff in 1925 that Tanko and Hall escaped from San Quentin prison and made a spectacular sortee into Nevada County, running the gauntlet of police officers and deputy sheriffs in both Nevada City and Grass Valley and made a successful get-way.

FISH PLANTERS TO PUT OVER MILLION TROUT IN COUNTY

NEVADA CITY: Andy Weaver, in charge of the fish planting crew, has arrived in Bear Valley. Game Warden Earl Hiscox will aid the seven-man crew in planting the fish in Nevada County's lakes and streams.

The crew will plant 1,250,000 young trout in Nevada County. Most of these will be rainbows, with about 300,000 eastern brook trout. Hiscox states it will require two months to plant Nevada and Placer Counties.

FINAL RITES FOR T. W. SIGOURNEY, SR.

NEVADA CITY: Funeral services took place Friday afternoon at 2o'clock in the Holmes Funeral Home for T. W. Sigourney, Sr., who died in a local hospital Wednesday afternoon.

The deceased was the son of the late Ms. and Mrs. William P. Sigourney. A native of this city, he was born 76 years ago. He was married in 1894 to the late Olivia Wilder of Grass Valley who died in 1916. As a young man he was a member of the baseball team known as the Monarchs. He engaged in the drayage business but sold out to his brother, the late William Sigourney.

He purchased and for many years conducted the Wolf Cash Grocery on Commercial Street. He sold this business and for two years worked as a miner in local mines, finally returning to business again as agent for the Nevada County Narrow Guage Railroad in Nevada City. He was a 50-year member of the Oustomah Lodge, I. O. O. F., of this city. The deceased leaves a son, Ted W. Sigourney, of this city, and a daughter, Mrs. Cleo Harris of Grass Valley.

Henry Loehr seconded the motion and action by the board was unanimous.

The board members submitted their individual budget estimates for roads during 1948-1949 fiscal year. They totaled $185,000. By districts, the sums asked for follows: No. 1, Nevada City, $36,000; No. 2, Grass Valley, $40,000; No. 3, Columbia Hill, $44,000; No. 4, Bridgeport, $36,000; and No. 5, Truckee, $29,000.

NEW ADDITIONS TO KINDERGARTEN

NEVADA CITY: A new lawn, an eight-foot cyclone fence, and retaining wall and gutters are major additions to Nevada City's kindergarten.

The lawn covers the entire front yard area, which is about 100 yards square, and will be enclosed on three sides by the cyclone fence. The retaining wall runs along the Winter street side of the lawn to the sidewalk, which will lead to the school steps.

Other new features will be a large sandbox, a flagpole by the front steps, and several shrubs which have already been planted.

The elementary school janitors, Jim Penrose, Alton Davies and Dick Nickless have spent much of their time working on the new grounds, refinishing the kindergarten floors, and also working with the crews on the cement work.

GRASS VALLEY BOY ON WORLD B-29 AIRPLANE TOUR

GRASS VALLEY: Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Neal of Grass Valley were surprised to learn recently that their son, Lieutenant Arthur N. Neal, was piloting one of the three big B29 bombers, now making an around the world tour.

"We never do know," said Mrs. Neal, "just what our son is doing. He does it first then tells us afterward. The last we knew he was piloting a B50 which is one of the new superbombers recently purchased by the army.

Young Neal graduated from the high school in Elwood, Pa., and shortly afterward enlisted in the U. S. Air Corps as a mechanic. He was in Pearl Harbor when the Japanese airmen attacked it on December 7, 1941. He was one of the survivors and when the war opened he was sent to a training school and got his air wings. In the Pacific he saw action many times. From Tinian Island he was sent on eleven bombing and mine laying missions.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Neal live in the Oaks Subdivision. They have been in Grass Valley for a year and like the city.

THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L., SR.

It ws noticeable that the President. delivering his message to Congress, which he called just as the senators and representatives were preparing to begin their campaigns for re-election was much more polite than his fighting acceptance talk before the Philadelphia Democratic convention.

Not that Harry Truman became a shrinking violet. On the contrary he seemed very much in earnest. Our guess is that the Republicans will think twice before speedily adjourning Congress after listening to the President. The President demonstrated quite clearly that "he has something" on the ball. It would seem to reasonable men. including most Republicans, that the better course for them to pursue, is to dig in and act on some of these measures, the President mentions, even if it should require a matter of weeks or months.

The Republicans stand accused of legislating against the entrance of displaced persons, who are either Jews or Catholics. The bill which the President signed under protest, certainly needs amending if this is true. We note that the President stepped very lightly into the subject of his civil rights program. but he did mention it, and it may be that Republicans will seize on this bill first, in order to bring the Democratic South into the picture and further the rift in the Democratic party.

However, this may prove a boomerang. The opportunity is there to be sure, but it is quite possible that the President would pick up more votes in the northern and western states than he will lose in the South. The Republicans may be counting on a tremendous Southern filibuster to stymie the entire session. If they do propose civil rights legislation then they had better get it through and over with, otherwise the voters will be very dissatisfied with their performance.

It is too early to count the ballots in November's election. We think the President has placed the Republican Congressmen on a hot spot. They had better figure out a good plan for getting off it without discredit. They might, for instance, take Truman at his word and really enact legislation curbing high prices and high wages. If for instance we should suddenly find ourselves in the same position nationally that we were in 1928-29-30, it would be a sad, time for the Republicans and for all of us. Deflation can act on our economy much more rapidly than inflation as was proved in the fateful years of the Hoover depression.
